OlangchunGola Yangma Wild trek - 23 Days

Olangchung Gola Yang wild trek, this is a great option to explore and discover Kanchanjanga region. This trek delves in to the a new experience in Eastern Nepal along with picturesque villages, nature and culture with mesmerizing views of highest mountains.

This trek offers a verity of adventure reward as trek stretches through the plains of Nepal, middle hills and alpine foothills of eastern Himalaya. Taplejung is the gate way of this trek. Beyond Taplejung following the Tamur river you gradually gain altitude towards the Olangchung Gola. Olangchung Gola is a last village of Taplejung which is bordering with Tibetan Autonomous Region(TAR). The Walung people are the indigenous inhabitants of Olangchung Gola. They are followers of Nyingmapa Buddhism, and Deki Chholing Gompa, is their major Buddhist monument which was built 450 years ago sits on top of the village. After Olangchung Gola, the trail continue north to more isolated Yangma village, and head up to the border and explore around the trading pass Ghan La (5746m). This alpine country is habitats of Snowleopard, blue sheep, vultures. Immersing few days in this remote and isolated hidden place, we descend down to Yangma village and ascend Nang La Pass(4820m) to Ghunsa.
